Prayer

You alone do we seek, O God, and you alone do we desire.

For you alone do we hunger and thirst.

And where you are, is heaven.

Amen

Community breakfast

Our two lovely Labour councillors, Julie Cattell & Leslie Pumm joined us for breakfast and chatted with our guests. Thanks to Maggie, Jenny, Lai and Donna for volunteering their time on Saturday. It was good to come together after a wonderful thanksgiving service and wake on Friday for our beloved Jacqui xxx

Women of Note

The Women of Note singing group is looking for a couple of new female range voices to join our merry band of singers!

We are a group of friends who meet on Thursday evenings (during term time) in the home of one of our members in Hove. With a mixture of sight singers and aural learners, we practice and perform a wide and ambitious repertoire, tackling multi-part arrangements chosen by our members and ranging from motets to pop anthems. We are fortunate to have a professional accompanist for rehearsals and concerts, as well as a talented arranger amongst us, who has created some show-stopping/jaw-dropping original numbers.

We host our own concerts, which are free of charge with a retiring fee for our chosen charity; as well as performing for church groups, WI, Rotary and the like, in return for a donation to our chosen charity – which is currently The Trussell Trust. Please get in touch at womenofnotesing@gmail.com to find out more.

Jacqui thanksgiving service

Having underestimated the task at hand (the church was much dustier and more disorderly than we had realised), the cleaning crew were forced to take a break and accept a little sustenance from Caroline who raided the breakfast bacon. Many thanks to the faithful helpers who got the church sparkling and resplendent with flowers for a lovely and packed service for Jacqui on Friday.

News from the church

- Pam Honeywood has moved to The Grange rest home in Sackville Gardens, and is settling in very happily. She was here on Monday for Clare's talk, apparently the staff made early lunch for her so she could get to it.

Gabriel Beck confirmation

Many of you will remember two mischievous little boys in our congregation, Gabriel and Jacob Beck. On Sunday 4 June the eldest, Gabriel, was confirmed in the Methodist and URC Emanuel Church in Eastbourne. His mum, Tanya, sends warm wishes to all our congregation in Hove.
